ARE you at work to redeem the State?

GRAND Barbecue, Tuesday, October 26th.

WARNER's warning didn't come to light an hour too soon.

EVERYBODY invited to the grand barbecue, October 26th.

THE case of that dirty hound, Ozanne, who was caught altering the Registration Books of Panola county, is a warning to the Democrats and Conservatives to be on the alert.

HOLD the strongholds you have won, men of the Democratic and Conservative phalanx, and press on for other positions. Nothing short of a Wellington victory must satisfy us now.

PENNSYLVANIA will vote on the 2nd of November. Her Democracy are not discouraged by the result in Ohio, which was nearly a drawn battle. Mr. Wright, Chairman of the Democratic Central Committee of Pennsylvania, has issued a rousing address, in which he says: "The people of Ohio are an agricultural people. The great staples of Pennsylvania consist of her iron, her coal, her manufactures, and mechanical industries. These have first felt the baleful influences of a profligate government and a bad system of legislation. * * * Let us stand by the organization that has been formed, and the resolves adopted by the Democratic Convention at Erie." And more to the same effect.

The Standing Army Bill.

One of the first acts of the incoming Democratic and Conservative Legislature should be the repeal of this odious measure, which came so nigh producing civil war in our State. To our mind, the employment of the agencies it provides is contrary both to the Constitution of the United States and of the State of Mississippi, and we have no doubt our court of last resort will so decide in the injunction case. But whether it so decides or not, the duty of the Legislature to strike it from the statute book which it disgraces is clear and palpable.

We must have no negro militia to invade peaceful communities as an electioneering agent for the Radical party. It is registered in the hearts of the white people that they do not intend to permit such an instrument to exist in their midst. They will infinitely prefer to be considered in a state of permanent insurrection and to be governed by the military force of the United States. They will acknowledge obedience to that authority, but the descendants of the men who struck the lion down will never pay homage to any inferior beast.

ONLY ten more days in which to work.

Col. Hooker.

Our next Representative in Congress will attend the mass meeting in Claiborne on the 28th. The remainder of his time will be spent in his own District. He is making a splendid canvass, and the people are delighted at the prospect of being represented in the next Congress by so eloquent and true a man.

Hon. L. Q. C. Lamar.

By his list of appointments elsewhere, it will be seen that Col. Lamar will devote the balance of his time until the election in his own District. He has done his duty faithfully in the canvass, and has visited the meetings of the people whenever he was able, and aroused them to a sense of their wrongs by his eloquence and irresistible logic. He could not have done more unless he had been gifted with ubiquity. He will be returned to Congress by a nearly unanimous vote, and every county in his District will elect Democrats and Conservatives to represent them in the Legislature.

Pike County.

The Summit Sentinel promises that after the election Pike county will forever repudiate Radical misrule and mismanagement. Good news! Grand news!!

The Panola Villainy.

The miserable criminal Ozanne and his wretched accomplice, have made the first response to Warner's secret circular; but luckily they were detected in the act. There is no punishment too severe for them.

Grenada County.

A friend in the above named county, writes:

"Grenada county is in a blaze of excitement. The white people are fully aroused, and they will carry this county by about 150 majority at the least. Grenada county has heretofore been Republican, but the negroes are now daily joining the Democratic clubs. Look for good news from Grenada soon."

Grand Marshal of the Day.

Capt. Frank Johnston having declined to act in that capacity, Thos. A. McWillie is hereby appointed Grand Marshal on the occasion of the barbecue at Jackson, on the 26th inst., with power to appoint his assistants.

T. J. WHARTON,
President Democratic Club.

DEMOCRATS, Conservatives, be ready to do your county some service on election day.

WATCH the registration books. Watch the ballot-boxes. Watch the counting of the votes. Watch the making up of the returns.

THE Ozanne villainy shows the importance to the Democrats and Conservative of appointing true and trusty vigilance committees.

Retrieving the Ohio Loss.

There is a good deal of sound sense in the way pointed out to the Democracy by the N. Y. Herald for retrieving the loss of Ohio. We will publish what it says, however, by repeating what we have before demonstrated that the success of the Democratic Presidential ticket next year does not depend upon the vote of Ohio.

"There is but one way to retrieve these misfortunes. There is no salvation for the Democratic party but by making administrative reform the paramount issue, and reuniting the party in a strenuous opposition to the abuses which have prevailed in President Grant's administration. It was absurd to raise any other banner than one inscribed with reform; but we trust it is not too late for the Democracy to be consolidated on that basis. The inflation issue has united the Republicans on the currency question and widened the breach between the Democrats. The only hope of the party lies in the action of the House of Representatives when congress assembles. If the House devotes itself to investigations and exposures, if it succeeds in dragging a great mass of hidden corruption to light and covering the administration with disgrace, the Democrats may yet fight their way to power as the champions of reform. There is no hope for the party on any other issue."

THE Pilot man is funny. His gibberish has a strong odor of the Lunatic Asylum. After the 2d of November he will laugh on the other side of his mouth.

WE, the undersigned business men of Jackson, Miss., do hereby agree, in accordance with the recommendation of Chairman Democratic Ex. Committee, that we will not open our places of business for any purpose of business between the hours of 6 o'clock a.m. and 7 o'clock p.m., on the day of election, November 2nd, 1875:

The Brandon Club will Attend the Barbecue.

We make the following extract from the proceedings of the Central (Brandon) Rankin county Democratic-Conservative Club, as found in the Argus:

The letter of invitation from the Jackson Club to attend their barbecue was read by Maj. P. Henry.

On motion of Col. Jos. Bennet, a committee of three, consisting of J. M. Jayne, Jr., P. Henry and H. S. Cole, were appointed to answer the letter of invitation. It was moved by Maj. Henry that this club attend the barbecue at Jackson in a body; and that a committee of three be appointed to confer with the railroad and make arrangements to carry this club. G. N. Langford, P. Henry and A. G. Mayers were appointed on said committee, and on motion, B. F. H. Lamb was added to the committee. On motion of J. M. Jayne, Jr., an invitation was extended to the Jackson Club to attend the grand mass meeting, barbecue and torch-light procession to take place here on the 29th inst., and the committee appointed to correspond with them were instructed to explain this invitation.

THE CLARION.

FOREST, SCOTT CO., MISS., Oct. 14th.

EDS. CLARION: Will you do me the favor to send me a package of your campaign documents—one copy of each up to date? I want them now. Your CLARION should be in the hands of every white man and black man, able to read, in the State. The best knock-down arguments will always be found in statistics, and you ply these with ability.

Yours truly,

J. A. G.

THE CANVASS

All the differences of opinion heretofore existing between the Democrats and Conservatives of Lowndes county have been satisfactorily arranged, and all parties have agreed to work heart and soul for the redemption of old Lowndes from Radical rule. The various candidates have made their appointments for speeches throughout the District and county, and are now at work. Posters are up calling for a grand rally of Democrats and Conservatives at the Court House on Saturday next, the 23rd, and the enthusiasm grows higher every day.

A 24-pounder cannon has been ordered from New Orleans, and will be here in time to wake the echoes on Saturday.

Old Kemper will be redeemed on the 2d of November. Her white people are aroused as never before, and Gilmer and Chisolm will be overwhelmed amid the rejoicings of the redeemed.

Hazlehurst Democrat.

In this (Columbia) county, we have been informed, the white majority on the old registration was 245. There have been between 900 to 1000 voters registered by the new Registrars, and we have been informed, also, that the whites have a majority of between 125 and 150 on the new registration, making the total white majority in the county about 395.

The Brandon Republican says Radicalism is on its last legs in Rankin county.

Columbus Independent.

The artillery of the Democrats and Conservatives of Monroe and Colfax are thundering over hill and along the valleys—sure presage of November's glorious victory.

Holly Springs Reporter.

After Gen. West had finished his speech on last Monday night, twenty colored citizens came forward and enrolled their names with the Conservative club. They were greeted with an applause that shook the court house.

A CLEAR poll of all lines of men; a free chance to vote or a free fight.

Vicksburg Monitor.

The Times is snapping at everybody again. We do wish they would keep some good-natured people in Jackson.

No Compromise.

Vicksburg Monitor.

The Pilot says there is some talk about a compromise ticket in Hinds. It objects to it; but then it doesn't object very hard. It strikes us that a little persuasion would convince the "careful helmsman." But THE CLARION claims the whole county, and we back whatever it advocates.

Alcorn County.

Corinth Conservative-Democrat.

We have got the Reds in full retreat; they have given way all along the line. Let us press them hard and keep the bayonet close to their rear, so that they cannot turn and rally. They saw they could not win the fight fairly and squarely, and they resorted to strategy; but their movements have been unmasked and they are now powerless.

How Haffa Was Killed.

Raymond Gazette.

As the Jackson Times is disposed to give us credit for our efforts to discover the facts as to the killing of Squire Haffa, for its information we now state the case as it is believed in the Auburn neighborhood. Haffa and Joe Stevens had furiously quarreled in the republican club, each wanting the nomination for magistrate of the Auburn district. The quarrel was renewed at Haffa's house, when Joe Stevens shot Haffa, inflicting the fatal wound. Joe Stevens then attempted to escape, but was pursued by Mrs. Haffa to a bridge, where she overtook and fired on him, the shot killing him instantly. Mrs. Haffa then fled to Jackson for protection. Such are believed at Auburn to be the circumstances of the killing, and so soon as Mrs. Haffa's whereabouts can be discovered, the people of Auburn propose to have her brought back for examination.

SWING.

Vicksburg Monitor.

Hang the registrar that proposes to throw out a Democratic box or a Democratic vote.—CLARION.

We fail to see any of the fruits of the peace conference in that.—Pilot.

From the above it is apparent that the guileless muttonhead who turns the crank of the Thieves' Organ, is under the delusion that the "peace conference" was gotten up especially to enable its party to do all manner of devilment, such as throwing out ballots, counting in defeated radicals, and so on. Well, when its tools try that little game, they will find that the climate of Mississippi is productive of a disease that results in sudden death by contraction of the windpipe. Only this, and nothing more.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY.

Grand Rally of the People at Duck Hill.

Gen. E. C. Walthall, Gen. J. Z. George, Capt. A. J. Baker and others Address the Multitude.

A Large Democratic Majority Certain.

DUCK HILL, MISS., Oct. 20, 1875.

MESSRS. POWER & BARKSDALE: I write from enthusiasm after the enjoyment of the happiest political days perhaps ever witnessed in this place. On account of the fact that the time of Gen'l Walthall and J. Z. George is so much occupied in laboring for the redemption of the State from Radical misrule and corruption, we could not determine on what day we would be able to claim their services, until we were left but little time to give notice to the people, and notwithstanding this, and notwithstanding every effort was made by the Radical leaders of this county to prevent the colored people from coming out, yet we had a splendid barbecue and a large crowd, 150 of whom were colored men, who came to hear the truth from a truthful standpoint.

At 11 o'clock A. M.,

GEN. E. C. WALTHALL,

than whom the Confederacy could boast of no more brave nor gallant a leader and general, and who, by the way, is to be next governor of Mississippi, took the stand, and delivered the opening speech and for one hour and forty-five minutes held the immense throng spell-bound, under one of the most terrible arraignments of the Radical party, both national and State, charging home, directly upon it, the cause of the poverty of all, and the terrible stringency in the money affairs of the country. And, notwithstanding he is very weak from long continued ill-health, so well was he enlisted in the cause that he seems to strengthen and appear more and more powerful as he warmed up to the close of his speech. It was soul-stirring to see his old friends and soldiers sit under his eyes and let the tears of love and remembrance of devotion roll down their cheeks.

After the conclusion of his speech,

GEN. J. Z. GEORGE,

the able, efficient Chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, who has done so much for the glorious cause of honest government, and the overthrow of the spooks of our State, was introduced, when he proceeded to cheer up the people with the announcement of the joyous news that the enemy was certainly routed; that the victory was ours, and that the State would certainly be redeemed on the 2d of November. He made a glorious speech, in his usual happy style, satisfying the colored people that they had been deluded; that the white people had been ridden by them until their backs were sore, and proposed to throw off their unmerciful riders; that the horn had sounded for dinner and the mule had halted. After he had finished, dinner was announced and all hands feasted on the sumptuous barbecue, prepared for them. After which our rising, talented and happily-gifted young lawyers, of Grenada, G. J. Freeman and J. M. Ellis each entertained the crowd in a speech of an hour, and I tell you they did it well. Oh, that the fair State of Mississippi may be redeemed! That such gifted and patriotic gentlemen may have the opportunity of conducting the affairs of State in the interest of honesty and enlightenment. A. J. Baker, candidate for the Legislature, was then called for, when he arose and returned thanks to his people for the marked attention which they had given the eminent speakers during the entire day. He explained to the colored people that these speakers had not come here in the interest of his county ticket, that being already a certainty; but to make a last effort with them in the interest of a general peace, and to warn them of their error. After which, he opened the roll book, when a considerable number of the leading colored men advanced to the stand and enrolled their names as Democrats.

The whole ticket in this county will be elected by 700 majority.

Very truly, A DEMOCRAT.

Attala County.

SALLIS, Oct. 1875.

Eds. Clarion: Attala county is all right. We will carry it with a whoop. Our success in the approaching election will justly be attributed to the unflinching exertions, indomitable energy and untiring zeal and determination of the editors of THE CLARION and our able and efficient Chairman of the Executive Committee, Gen. George. Col. Singleton's speech at this place a week ago was the most ingenious, powerful and convincing I have heard, save, perhaps, Lamar's at Jackson. Niles was so completely non-plused, confounded, with the stern and startling facts and figures presented, that in reply he made a signal failure (so acknowledged by his friends). S.
